COMMUNICATION MAJOR: BUSINESS APPLICATIONS OPTION (B.A.)

https://cola.unh.edu/communication/program/ba/communication-majorbusiness-applications-option

Description

The Department of Communication, in collaboration with the Department of Marketing and the Department of Management in the Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics, offers a business applications option for communication students. The objective of the business applications option is to offer a select group of communication students the opportunity to augment the liberal arts focus of their major with professional training in such areas as marketing, advertising and organizational behavior. Qualified students who meet all requirements will graduate<sup>1</sup> with a B.A. degree in communication: business applications, an achievement which will be recorded on their official transcripts.

Minimum Requirements for Option Eligibility

1. Declared communication major.

2. Completion of CMN 455 Introduction to Media Studies, CMN 456 Propaganda and Persuasion, and CMN 457 Introduction to Language and Social Interaction with a C or better.

- 3. Completion of at least one CMN 500-level course with a C- or better.
- 4. Maintain minimum in-major GPA of 2.5.
  - Student enrollment in the Business Applications Option will be contingent upon space availability.
  - Overall, total enrollment should not exceed twenty students in any given academic year.
- <sup>1</sup> Students admitted to the option must earn a minimum 2.5 cumulative grade point average in major courses at graduation or they will, by default, graduate with a BA in Communication without the special option designation on their diplomas.

Student Learning Outcomes

D:

Program Learning Outcomes Students will be able to describe the Communication discipline and its central questions. We expect students to be able to:

- · Explain and synthesize the history of Communication theory.
- Articulate the differences between approaches within the discipline (media studies, language and social interaction, and rhetorical studies).
- · Identify contemporary debates within the field.
- · Distinguish Communication scholarship from other areas of study.
- · Understand the role of Communication scholarship in society.
- Articulate the relevance of communication in civic life, including an ability to apply key concepts in the field to world events, situations, or problems.

Students will be able to think critically about communication processes by applying communication theories and concepts. We expect students to be able to:

- Identify theories, perspectives, principles, and concepts relevant to the discipline.
- Recognize academic writing, identify the work's thesis, explain its method, assess the evidence used, and determine its significance.
- Engage with communicative patterns, processes, problems, and practices that they encounter in their personal, professional and civic lives.
- Acquire effective frameworks for describing, analyzing, reflecting upon, and engaging with those patterns, processes, problems, and practices.

Prepare students to become thoughtful and proficient communicators. We expect students to be able to:

- · Become critical consumers of messages.
- Understand how meanings are constructed by speakers and audiences.
- Evaluate claims and arguments, and to be able to explain how they are grounded.
- Recognize the collaborative construction of meaning and its relation to social change.
- Explore the ways in which various forms of communication constitute, maintain, and transform social life.
- Formulate coherent arguments/theses, provide support for their perspectives, and communicate them clearly and logically.
- Select creative and appropriate modalities and technologies to accomplish communicative goals.
- Adapt messages and coordinate communication with others recognizing the diverse needs.
