

ENVIRONMENTAL AND RESOURCE ECONOMICS (EREC)

---

The Environmental and Resource Economics program offers training in areas that include public resource policy, resource management, natural resource and environmental economics, and community economics and finance. The curriculum emphasizes applied economics in the context of public policy. Training is also available in agricultural economics, including agribusiness, small business management, food marketing, agricultural policy, and world food supplies.

<https://colsa.unh.edu/natural-resources-environment>

Programs

- Environmental and Resource Economics Minor

Courses

Environmental & Resource Economics (EREC)

Faculty

Natural Resources and the Environment Department Faculty